

Customary medicine partnerships

8 pm, Wednesday 18 October 2017

Learn about the medicinal properties of Australian native plants with Associate Professors Joanne Jamie and Subra Vemulpad from Macquarie University. Joanne and Subra are co-directors of the Indigenous Bioresources Research Group. Their research focuses on working in partnership with Indigenous people on traditional medicinal plant knowledge for cultural preservation and drug discovery.

Free – Visitors welcome

We have native plants for sale from Ausplants Nursery, books to borrow, plant identification, plant raffle, a free supper – and friendly people to chat with. And you can buy our identification CD Coastal Plants of the Royal National Park.

from 7.45 pm for 8 pm start
